Farah Abraham is getting some assistance in the romance department — thanks to a renowned relationship expert.

The Teen Mom OG cast member — who will return for a brand-new season of the long-running series on August 22 — is set to appear on Patti Stanger's WEtv series Million Dollar Matchmaker, according to People. And in a sneak peek below, Sophia's mama is holding nothing back as she opens up about her past.

"I don't know why it's so hard to find someone else to love me," the 25-year-old tearfully admits to Patti.

While it looks like Farrah may have her work cut out for her (dating ain't easy), at least she has the support of the love guru: The two have a history together — and the MTV star even called the businesswoman her "sister." Awww.

Do you think Farrah will be able to find her one and only? Catch her in action on Million Dollar Matchmaker premiering on July 8 — and be sure to watch Farrah with Maci Bookout, Catelynn Lowell, and Amber Portwood for a fresh installment of Teen Mom OG on August 22 at 10/9c!
