Professional matchmaker Patti Stanger is helping self-proclaimed 'Human Ken Doll' Justin Jedlica find love following his divorce — and she has no problem calling him out for being superficial.

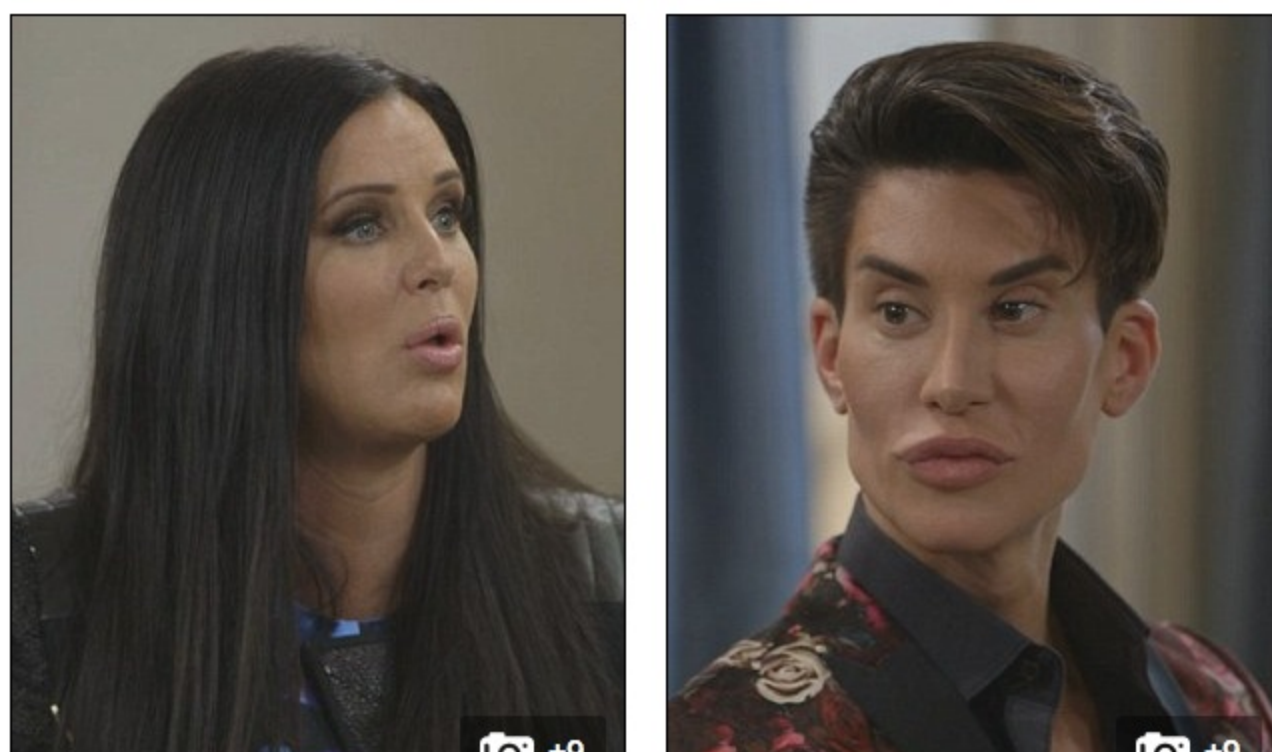

On the upcoming season of the hit Bravo series Millionaire Matchmaker, the 35-year-old plastic surgery aficionado is confronted by Patti, who refuses to take him on as a client unless he changes his ways.

'Justin is a very unique case — his physical appearance dominates his life,' Patti says in a clip from the new season. 'I need to break him of this terrible, terrible habit.'

Putting himself out there: 'Human Ken Doll' Justin Jedlica looks for love following his recent divorce on the upcoming season of the hit Bravo series Millionaire Matchmaker

Confrontation: In a preview clip for the episode, professional matchmaker Patti Stanger calls out Justin for being too superficial

Justin and his partner wed in a civil union in 2014 after five years together but the two recently divorced, and he is now looking to Patti to help him find love again. However, she is quick to point out that he is going about it all wrong.

'There's a sweet byr inside of you, but you don't want to lead with that; you want to lead with plastic crap,' she argues.

Justin has spent hundreds of thousands of dollars on plastic surgery, which includes chest implants, shoulder implants, bicep implants, triceps implants, and butt implants.

Patti insists that 'without substance there is no soul' as she continues to lecture Justin about his superficial values.

Baby steps: Patti refuses to take Justin on as a client until he agrees to making his date the center of attention

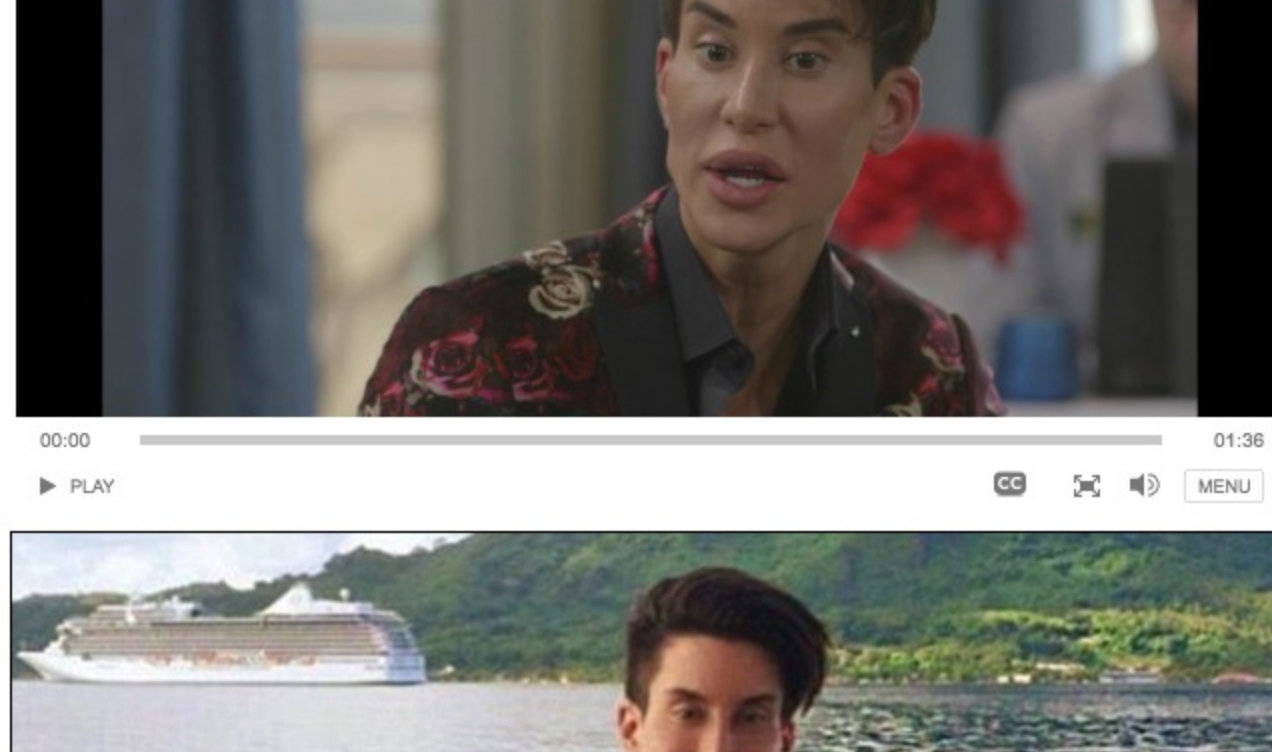

'You need someone to fall in love with your soul, not your f****g body,' she adds.

While Justin says love is a 'commitment', Patti urges him to understand that it is more than that 'It's soul to soul connection — that has nothing to do with the body. It's an energy,' she says, and he readily agrees with her.

'Do you want someone to fall in love with your body or for your soul?' Patti asks him.

And while Justin insists that he wants to be loved for who he is as a person, Patti points out that he is making it difficult for himself to find the right partner.

'How are they going to get to know you if you lead with plastic surgery, which is so superficial and shallow?' she asks.

Justin goes on to admit that his passion for plastic surgery is 'definitely something that does dominate conversation'.

The celebrity matchmaker tells him that she doesn't want him to talk about plastic surgery at all on his date, if someone asks what he does, she wants him to say he is 'in the plastic surgery business' and move on.

'Learn how to deflect on the date and make that other person the centerpiece, not you,' she says. 'Can you do that? Because otherwise I am not taking you on as a case. Can you do that?'

Justin says it is a 'deal' and they shake on it, and Patti quickly calls him out for having a 'wimpy handshake'.

'Patti definitely preaches some tough love, and I'm here to learn,' Justin tells the camera. 'If this is any sort of indication of how the rest of the week is going to go, I'm kind of scared.'
