‘Million Dollar Matchmaker’ Exclusive: Patti Stanger Forces Immediate Breakup To Help Client

July 29, 2016 by Paula Duffy

Patti Stanger's "Million Dollar Matchmaker" takes on one of the classic types she counsels during the latest episode, "Loosey Goosey and Mr. Forever 21", airing Friday night July 29 on WE tv. Stanger loves to break bad habits of those that seek her matchmaking skills and tonight she's rejoined by Destin and Rachel. Check out the story of their reunion.

In an EXCLUSIVE video preview posted below, Patti faces down Anna Lisa, a 27 year-old who enjoys the single life as a woman with tech startup money. She's living a bachelorette existence, dating a lot of men and spending the cash that comes with her career, but she's looking for love. Stanger explains why her current mode of partying isn't designed to find her the love she wants.

The word "explains" might not cover the delivery of the advice, and we get just a hint of how Patti dated at the same age. It wasn't close to Anna Lisa's world, but one thing is for certain, Patti puts the hammer down about fixing someone up who has a "regular rotation".

Also on tonight's show is Patti's friend, comic Tony Tripoli who she dubbed Mr. Forever 21. A couple of episodes ago, Patti changed the life of another comedian, Matt Galant who Patti helped with ease. Tony is a different story. He dates young ladies, very young ladies. It's not that there's anything wrong with that, although Patti scolds him, but if you are looking for a life partner, you might want to choose another age range.

Stanger goes into full-on prediction-of-doom mode with Tony and if you are a fan of hers and watched her Bravo TV show you'll recognize the drill. She makes the client think of being alone as he/she grows older and envision it without someone they love in their life. She's fully capable of asking the classic, but harsh question, "Do you want to die alone?" . It doesn't always work, but when it does, there's a sense of triumph for the "Million Dollar Matchmaker".

WE tv airs new episodes of "Million Dollar Matchmaker" Friday nights at 10 p.m. ET/PT immediately following the latest "Marriage Boot Camp: Reality Stars". Image/video credit: WE tv, used with permission
