Due to Fletcher's inability to hide her attraction or lack thereof to Alex, Bachelorette viewers knew that she and the marine weren't on the same page after their kiss.

In the video above, the matchmaker talked about the importance of a smooch and how it should be handled: "Take her hair, throw her against the wall and give her a big one! What is the problem? You're a man. Go in there and grab your wench."

Stanger, 55, didn't hold back when talking about Fletcher's approach: "I think she's moving quickly. She's in heat." The outspoken matchmaker added, "She's determined, but what happens if he's not there? She's always looking for the fly in the ointment."

She also shared some of her tips for all of the single ladies. And one of her main pieces of advice? "Those who travel in packs don't attract."

Stanger's top three dating red flags or dating do nots: Don't talk about your exes, don't be a sloppy drunk and make sure to say please and thank you.

Stanger said her new show on We TV is a step up from her previous hit Millionaire Matchmaker on Bravo, and she pointed out that she's an executive producer this time around. Set at a VIP resort in San Diego, the new series will feature straight and gay millionaires and include Bachelor in Paradise alum Ashley Iaconetti and Teen Mom OG star Farrah Abraham.
