A Housewife's happily ever after, perhaps! The Real Housewives of Atlanta's Kenya Moore has Millionaire Matchmaker Patti Stanger to thank for setting her up with her new boyfriend James.

The producer, 44, appeared on the Sunday, Mar. 22 episode of the dating show, where her fellow Housewife Cynthia Bailey wanted to set up her pal with a quality man.

During the episode, it was revealed that Moore has been proposed to a whopping (seven!) times, and none of those romantic scenarios panned out — largely due to her fear of abandonment. Matchmaking pro Stanger, however, found a potential solution to Moore's woes — first with an emotional counseling session, which was followed by a mixer with a packed room of eligible bachelors including one dashing gentleman named James.

As evidenced during Moore's dinner date at Sur with James, the two immediately hit it off and even exchange a cute kiss at the end of their flirtatious night out.

At the end of the episode, Bravo noted that the RHOA star was still dating her hunky match. Moore also officially broke her silence on her relationship status after Sunday's episode of Millionaire Matchmaker aired.
