Bravo is looking to expand its unscripted slate, announcing four new projects it hopes will cut through the clutter to become its next Real Housewives franchise.

The NBCUniversal-owned cable network is developing #Obsessed, Apres Ski, High Stakes Style and Family Love, from exec producer Patti Stanger, as it looks to build on its unscripted brand.

"Our latest crop of development is all about connecting Bravo viewers with who they definitely must know and what they absolutely cannot live without," said Lara Spotts, senior vp development at Bravo. "From a glimpse inside a luxury ski resort to a curation of what's new and what's next, Bravo has its finger on the pulse of the latest trends for our viewers to keep up at the watercooler."

STORY: Bravo Developing 'Choose Your Own Adventure' Reality Show'
